

“It’s been a real challenge being a senior and homeless. I lived in my car off and on for three years. Each and every day I wonder, because of my medical issues, will I be able to survive the waiting and search for housing.”

72 years old

Asanta Johnson is the mother of five children and has an extensive work history. A series of accidents injured her back. She asked her employer for time off to heal, but her request was denied and she was laid off. Last year she found transitional housing and can now focus on her housing search and her health.
